PAUL IN EPHESUS

LESSON TEXT—Acts 19:8-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—We are his workmanship created in Christ Jesus unto good works which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul's Bravery Against a Crowd.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Bravery Against a Crowd.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Outgrowing Superstition.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Growing Together in Christ.

I. Paul Preaching in Ephesus (vv. 8-10).

1. In the synagogue (v. 8).

Paul's custom was to go to the Jews first with the gospel, though they were his inveterate enemies. His preaching here was characterized by:

(1) Boldness. He knew that God had sent him and therefore that he was backed by divine authority. This should characterize every Christian worker.

(2) Argument. The gospel message is in accord with the highest reason.

(3) Persuasion. It is not enough that the minister come boldly with a reasonable message. It must be accompanied with persuasion. "Knowing the terror of the Lord, we persuade men."

(4) The message should have definite content.

It was concerning the kingdom of God. Paul's supreme theme was salvation through Christ.

2. In the schoolhouse of Tyrannus (vv. 9, 10).

Paul's earnest scriptural and persuasive preaching only hardened the hearts of the Jews, even causing them to speak evil openly of this way of salvation by faith in Christ. It was for this reason that Paul separated the disciples from them and retired to the schoolhouse of Tyrannus, where he continued his ministry for two years with glorious results.

II. God Working Miracles by Paul (vv. 11-16).

Ephesus was noted for its wonder workers, therefore if Paul's ministry was to be successful God must in an extraordinary way put His seal upon the work. So wonderful was the divine power manifested that even handkerchiefs or aprons brought from Paul's body healed the sick and cast out evil spirits. Everywhere the supremacy of the Lord Jesus Christ was recognized. Seeing the marvelous power operating through Paul, certain strolling Jews who went about the country practicing the magical arts at the expense of their poor unfortunate fellows, undertook to use the name "Jesus" in their incantations. Knowing that the connection with Christ was not real on the part of these Jews, the use of His name by them only enraged the evil spirit who struck them and overcame them. The name of Jesus is only powerful on the believer's lips.

III. A Glorious Revival at Ephesus (vv. 17-41).

1. Fear fell upon all (v. 17). News of the casting out of these evil spirits created impressions favorable to Christianity.

2. It brought to the front those who professed faith in Christ, while not living right lives (v. 18). They believed but had not broken from sin. Great blessing would come to the church if some awakening could come to those whose lives are not in keeping with their profession and cause them to openly confess and make a new start.

3. Gave up the practice of Black arts (v. 19).

This means forms of jugglery by use of charms and magical words. All such are in opposition to the will of God, therefore no one can have fellowship with God and practice them. They proved the genuineness of their actions by publicly burning their books.

4. The uproar of the silversmiths at Ephesus (vv. 23-41).

1. The occasion (vv. 23, 24).

This was the power of the gospel in destroying the infamous business of Demetrius and his fellows.

2) The method (vv. 25-29).

Demetrius, a shrewd business man, called a meeting and stated that because of much people turning from idolatry business conditions were threatened and that the market for their wares was wrecking. He stated, "This our craft is in danger." The world is willing to tolerate any kind of religion or moral awakening so long as it does not interfere with its business or manner of life. He further said, "The temple of the great goddess Diana will be destroyed." He became quite religious when he saw that business was being interfered with.

WOMAN STUDIES HAREM SECRETS

Finds Peephole in Ancient Seraglio Palace.

Constantinople.—An American woman, the first foreigner whom the Ottoman government permitted to enter the harem of Seraglio palace, has just completed an exhaustive study of that mysterious labyrinth.

She is Dr. Barnette Miller, head of the history department of Wellesley college, who returned to Stamboul this year to complete the investigations she began in 1907. Aided by a young Turkish girl, Mehrocke Hanem, a member of the staff of Constantinople College for Women, Doctor Miller is the first American to delve deeply into the shadowy history of the vast 500-year-old palace where Turkish padishahs and sultans and their hundreds and thousands of slaves lived hidden lives.

The American investigator discovered in her prowlings through the palace that there existed one peephole by which the women of the harem could look upon more than other than their suitable master and their guardian eunuchs. High in the wall of the palace mosque where the sultan and his masculine followers worshiped, Doctor Miller found a tiny window covered with a golden lattice and discovered that this window connected with the room in the harem where the women gathered to pray.

During her final investigations this year Doctor Miller was given permission by the new republican Turkish authorities to enter every one of the hundreds of palace rooms save one. No human except the sultans, not even the sultan-smiting, religion-defying Mustapha Kemal, has ever entered that sanctum sanctorum where the beard of the Prophet reposes. Outside the heavily barred window of that room, 40 turbaned priests, in groups of four, chant prayers from the Koran day and night, year after year, century after century.

New Method to Aid Deaf Is Being Taught

Los Angeles, Calif.—Extraordinary results of a method whereby children born deaf are taught to speak and to "hear" by lip reading were disclosed at the demonstration school of the University of California at Los Angeles.

The new method, according to Miss Rachel Dawes, a demonstration school teacher, presages the abandonment of the sign language.

The course of study includes lip reading, spelling, writing, reading, number and language work in addition to tongue gymnastics, the last of which forms the most important part of the work.

"Music, too, is an important factor in arousing the child's consciousness of vibration," Miss Dawes said.

"Being unable to hear, the children must be taught how to take the correct positions for language sounds, which we call 'tongue gymnastic work.' They must know where to put the tongue and how to give voice and breath for sound. Ten sound-of-syllable combinations have been learned by the children to date."

Scientists Hunt Poison to Kill Coddling Moth

Yakima, Wash.—Field laboratories have been opened here and at Wenatchee by the Department of Agriculture in an effort to develop a poison that will be superior to the lead-arsenate spray which at present is the only effective method of combating the coddling moth, an insect that causes huge losses to apple and pear growers.

Local orchardists are co-operating. They desire a poison that while deadly to the moth will be harmless to humans and which will not require a wash or other treatment that will shorten the life of the apple when in storage.

English Clerics' Wives Forced to Take Jobs

London.—Poverty and even starvation among British clergy are advanced as reasons for a sharp decline in applicants for ordination in this country.

Four London clergymen's wives are working as waitresses in cafes, others as housekeepers and "lady helps" in order to make ends meet. In Birmingham, the wife of a curate was found working as a charwoman. In another London minister with six children to support, has learned to repair boots so that he can make extra money in his spare time.

Self-Aiming Plane Gun Invented by Esthonian

Tallinn, Esthonia.—The Esthonia inventor, Kurt Papelio, has perfected a mechanism for airplanes which he claims will be able to locate the direction and position of other planes by their sound and fire a machine gun automatically.

This invention has attracted the notice of the British air ministry, it is reported here, and Papelio is expecting an order from the British government. Papelio spent eight months in British military schools and was invited to go on a lecture tour there last year.

Lawmakers' Wrong Idea

Twenty-one sections of the Kansas statutes deal with steamboats and there is not a single steamboat in the state. The laws to govern vessels were passed in the early days when railroads had not invaded the plains of Kansas and when it seemed likely to optimistic lawmakers that the streams of Kansas would prove fruitful highways for boats.

Suffering With SICK HEADACHES

Mr. Charles F. Todd, of Rosenburg near Waynesburg, Ky., says:

"I was suffering with nervous headaches. About once a week I would have the headache, and have to quit work, and go to bed for about twenty-four hours. I would have pains in my neck, and right behind my right ear.

"A merchant at Rosenburg told me to try taking Black-Draught, which I did.

"It relieved me. From that time on, I would take Black-Draught as soon as I felt like I was going to have one of those headaches—and they wouldn't come on.

"Every few weeks, I take three or four doses of Black-Draught, and I feel so well, and do my work, and don't lose any more time with headache."

September 15, 1928.

To The Voters of the Tenth Congressional District of Virginia:

On July 7th, 1928, at Lexington, Virginia, I was nominated by the Tenth Congressional District Republican Convention as that party's choice for election to membership in the House of Representatives, to represent the good people of this district at the seat of Government at Washington.

Being unknown to many citizens of the District, I wish to say that I was born in Bath County, have lived in Virginia all of my life, and am a resident of Clifton Forge, where for sixteen years I have been a practicing attorney and of which city it is my honor to be the Attorney for the Commonwealth.

As a candidate for this great office, I stand unqualifiedly behind the candidacy of those two great Americans, Hoover and Curtis, and upon the same platform upon which they stand, the platform of principles adopted by the Republican party at Kansas City. If I am chosen by you to represent you at Washington, I shall do so to the very best of my ability, having an eye single to the interest and economic welfare of the people. I believe the clear thinking people of our land have definitely decided to place the welfare of this nation for the next four years in the hands of Herbert Hoover, and under his administration, the good people of the Tenth Congressional District of Virginia, should be represented at Washington by a man who is FOR HOOVER, and who will work with the President and not against his policies. In this election I am that man.

In conclusion I shall single out just one issue, rather one great moral, social and economic problem upon which I feel the people desire a definite statement from a candidate for Congress, namely, prohibition and its enforcement. It is fearless, my friends, that either makes or mars the legal machinery for true prohibition. I will be for a making prohibition a part of the organic law. I am in favor of keeping prohibition in the Constitution of the United States, and I favor the present Volstead Act, and if elected, I pledge you my vote in Congress will consistently uphold this stand.

Yours very truly,
M. J. PUTNAM.

Use of Gas in War

The War department says that German gas has been credited with the first use of gas as a war gun. Gas had been used in previous wars. The first instance in the World war on record when gas was released by the German military forces was on April 22, 1915, at 4:50 p. m., on the Ypres front between Bixschoote and Langemarck, north of Ypres.

Little White Lies

We all lie a little when we tell stories about ourselves, because we want to seem more colorful, important and attractive than we feel ourselves to be. We like to tell stories that reflect us as we wish we were. We would like to be so, and, indeed, we often picture ourselves so when we are alone. Hence our stories, our colorful anecdotes, our white lies told as truths.—Thyra S. Winslow in Smart Set Magazine.

SURVIVOR TELLS OF SUBMARINE ESCAPES

Milwaukee Man Was in Four Disasters.

Milwaukee.—After having been in four submarine disasters in five years with the navy, C. H. Redding, twenty-eight, Milwaukee, is still very much alive. Throughout his navy service Redding was assigned to submarine duty as an electrician.

Redding was on the S-48 when it went down with an open hatch off Bridgeport, Conn., with 43 men on board, all of whom were rescued after fighting water and gas fumes for 12 hours. The thing that stands out in Redding' mind is the droll attempt of a nuchinitt's mate to sweep back the ocean with a broom.

"The sub went down for a deep dive, but the hatch had been left open," he said. "Water poured in. This machinist mate was sweeping up water with a broom and was unaware of what had happened, as we all were for several minutes. He kept sweeping and sweeping but the water got too much for him. Finally he went into the control room and told the officers he needed a mop. We soon learned what had happened then."

When the S-6 sank in San Pedro (Calif.) harbor in 1925 after some one inadvertently had opened a torpedo door, Redding was just coming on board for the night.

As he stepped on the sub it began to sink and he stepped off into the ocean and swam to a tender lying alongside. Six men who were asleep were drowned but the others were rescued.

Redding had his head and face burned when a battery blew up on the S-37 in 1926. This accident also happened in San Pedro harbor. Six men were killed by the blast.

He was also on the L-5 which dove with an open hatch off the coast of California during the winter maneuvers in 1920. The crew of 22 men were rescued.

Lighthouse Built Amid Tempests on Coral Reef

Washington.—A successful end to an 18 months' campaign to plant a lighthouse on Tubbatahs reef in the Philippine Islands, marked by a bitter and ceaseless struggle against the elements, has been reported by the lighthouse service of the Department of Commerce.

A low coral reef set in the midst of a nest of rock shoals, submerged and hurricane-swept, has been crowned with a 120-foot tower to carry the light that will warn mariners. Presently the reef will be covered with soil behind the sea wall to make a fifty yards under the tower.

Work began on the construction in November, 1926, and was stopped repeatedly by hurricanes which swept the place, low lated. Many days the sun, beating on the white coral, made labor impossible during normal working hours.

Water had to be distilled out of the sea to supply the gangs struggling with the concrete and steel. Sickness forced retirement of a high percentage of the working force, but the erection of the light has been proven a necessity to safeguard the sea traffic between Manila and Hongkong and Australia, and the Philippine government kept its forces at the task.

Sea Serpent Has Sheep's Head on Body of Eel

Vancouver, B. C.—A nameless monstrous creature about six feet long, having an eel-like body and a head resembling that of a sheep, was on display at provincial police headquarters here as evidence of the existence of a "sea monster" which many people have reported seeing in Lake Okanagan, in the interior of British Columbia.

The strange creature was caught by the young son of Harry Alexander, Vancouver magistrate, while trolling on the lake.

Tales of the appearance of a monster in the lake have been coming from there for two years.

Most Moral Town

Linz, Austria.—This little town, capital of Upper Austria, claims to be the most moral and best governed in the world. Because of the lack of litigation, the law courts here have closed their doors, the police having reported no crimes or misdemeanors of any kind among the 50,000 inhabitants.

Kemalists Turn Backs on Traditional Hero

Constantinople—President Kemal, the Turkish Westernizer of rural fashions, has bowled over the George Washington of old Turkey, Sultan Mahomet, conqueror of Constantinople in 1453.

An article in the official press signed by a prominent Kemalist deputy, heaped insults on the national idol, charging that his only motto was "conquest and booty."

The attack on the Father of Turkey shows a fundamental change in the national mentality since the war. The author says that if Kemal had been on hand in 1453 instead of the great sultan the European renaissance would have sprung from Turkey instead of Greece and Rome.

Odd Welcome for Visitor

Efficiency is the watchword at the hospital for seamen in London. Lately there came a stranger old man whose speech attendants could not understand. They burned his clothes, shaved him, bathed him and put him to bed with a sleeping draught. Next day it was found he had come to visit a friend.

LEGEND EXPLAINS A PETRIFIED FOREST

Navahos Call Stone Trees Bones of Monsters.

Tucson, Ariz.—The Navaho Indians of the southwest have a strange and fantastic legend to account for the great stone tree trunks whose broken columns strew the desert in the region of the famous petrified forest.

In the early days of the world, the Indians say, the sun did not ride tranquil and undimmed through the sky as he does now. At that time there was a black monster that was continually contesting his supremacy. His name was Yietso, and many were the battles that he and the sun fought.

Lived in a Cave.

This Yietso lived in a cave in the big mountains, and from there he would sally forth and contend with the sun. He had long and strongly muscled arms and powerfully clawed hands. And his bones were of stone. When he stood erect he could reach the sun at any place in the sky.

When he was defeated in his fights he would have to rest many days and often even many months before he was able to renew the attack, but he was never vanquished. Also at times during these terrible bouts he would get a finger, hand or limb so broken that he would have to discard it, but he possessed the power to grow a new part in the place of the disabled one. The bones of these disabled, discarded parts, were what the Navajos age the stone-wood accumulated.

At that time a boy by the name of Kee lived in a grass-tied feather house with his mother, Shemah, and his sister, Zonnie. The sister is got very cold. Finally, as they had no fuel, Kee went to the mountains for pitch wood. As the sun set before he reached the forest he slept out where he was. Then on the next day he went into the mountains and found what he supposed was pitch wood, a quantity of which he chopped.

Bones Instead of Wood.

When he reached his home it was growing dark the second night. So he slept outdoors in front of his hogan, where Zonnie found him still sleeping when she came home in the morning. She also noticed the wood. Just as their grandmother came out of the house. And instead of pitch wood he had brought bones of Yietso; whereupon his grandmother scolded him and told him to throw them away.

In time Kee grew to be a great man. Time and again he visited the mountain where he had obtained the bone-wood, and there he prayed to his god and made sacrifice. Then one day he discovered the cave where the monster lived, and at the rising of the sun on the following morning he told him, through prayer, of the beast's abode.

Just as he was telling the sun the news he saw the great black thing creeping above the mountains to the attack. Quickly Kee called the men of his tribe together and they all prayed for the powers of good to aid the sun in this battle against darkness.

Right against the face of the sun leaped the monster. It stretched its fierce gross and clawing hands toward the sun's rim. Then the battle began in earnest. The sun attacked with his millions and millions of rays, and aided by the prayers of the then good people of earth, he finally overcame it.

In this battle of all battles the sun's rays pierced Yietso's body, and his blood, on reaching the earth, was congealed in lava flows. Finally he fell back to the earth dead, and the sun returned triumphantly in the heavens, as he spread his invigorating and cheering light over land and sea. And the Platean region is still incredibly covered with its bones, called by the Navahos Yietsobitahn, the bones of Yietso.

Trappers Dead Fifty Years Found in Cave

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.—A long-forgotten tragedy of the far-trading days is believed to have been uncovered. A prospector reported that he had found two skeletons and a number of rusted old-fashioned muskets in a cave north of Bruce Mines.

The skeletons were lying by the side of a small, well-hidden lake and, until he found them, A. B. Fraser, the prospector believed he was the discoverer of the lake.

Fraser said he was positive no one had visited the lake since the men met their death. The muskets were of a type which has not been used in the North for fifty years. No other articles could be found to indicate when the men died or what caused their death.

Amputates Frozen Toes With a Kitchen Knife

Prince George, British Columbia.—A trapper who amputated four of his toes with a kitchen knife when they became frozen last winter has arrived here for professional surgical attention, but was told he had done the job so well no further treatment was needed.

While inspecting his trap line on the upper Finaly river, J. Omora suffered frost bite in his right foot. Returning to his cabin, which is 50 miles from the nearest neighbor, he took three days to perform the operation. He then washed the wounds in antiseptic and bound them up.

Brothers Get Death Wish

Each having expressed the hope that he would not survive the other, Rev. John Glenn Hosten, aged seventy-four, of Brighton, England, and his brother James Hosten, aged seventy-six, of Worthing died recently within three hours of each other. They were buried side by side.

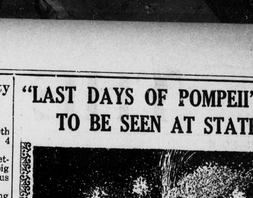
RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Baltic Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause.

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered which gives almost instant relief. The system tones up beautifully, and the bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or irritating the dose.

Keep constipation from constipating. Chew a Rexall Orderlies tablet. 12 tablets 25c. Get it for today at your nearest Rexall Drug Store.—CHAS. F. JAMES.

"LAST DAYS OF POMPEII" TO BE SEEN AT STATE FAIR



Sketch Made from Night Photo of the Great Fireworks Spectacle, "Last Days of Pompeii"

RICHMOND.—A dense pall of Stygian smoke rising from the volcano's mouth to immense heights, shot through with lightning flashes, followed by terrific explosions which rock the earth and rip an immense cone from the mountain-top, a terrifying deluge of red-hot cinders and stones, rivers of molten lava flowing down the mountain's sides, then a fountain of incandescent fire rising to the skies, illuminating the fearsome scene of death and destruction—this, in a word, is the story of the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius, which caused the destruction, nearly 2,000 years ago, of the beautiful city of Pompeii.

The scene has been reconstructed from historical data, and visitors to the State Fair which opens in Richmond October 1, will see a gorgeous portrayal of it in a spectacular fireworks production entitled "The Last Days of Pompeii."

In addition to this spectacle, an elaborate program of other fireworks comprising a "Battle Royal" will be staged each evening. The Fair will continue throughout the week of October 1 to 6.
